

Transport & Storage Licence Key Information

The Transport & Storage Licence allows businesses to securely transport and store cannabis and cannabis-derived products within the Isle of Man. This licence is essential for organisations involved in the logistics and warehousing of controlled cannabinoids.

What This Licence Permits

Holders of a Transport & Storage Licence are authorised to:

- Possess controlled cannabinoids for transportation or warehousing purposes
- Transfer cannabis products between licensed facilities on behalf of other licensees
- Store cannabis products in a secure, dedicated facility

All storage must occur within the Isle of Man and meet the required security standards. Transport on public roads must follow strict security and documentation protocols.

Application Requirements

Applicants must submit detailed plans covering:

- Transport vehicles and logistics
- Storage premises and security measures
- Record-keeping systems
- Product handling procedures

The GSC may inspect facilities to ensure compliance with licence conditions.

When Is This Licence Required?

A Transport & Storage Licence is required if your business intends to:

- Transport cannabis products between grower or manufacturer sites
- Move products to and from Isle of Man ports
- Provide secure storage facilities for other licensees

Licensees may also hold additional licence types depending on their business model.

Licence Fees

- Year 1: £5,250
- Subsequent Years: £2,625

Note: Licence fees are subject to review and may change following Tynwald approval. Interim licences may be issued without charge until November 2024.

Compliance & Oversight

The GSC conducts inspections to ensure compliance. Licensees must maintain accurate records and may be subject to reporting obligations under the Misuse of Drugs Act 1976 and Medicines Act 2003.
